

Journal of Chemical Education Reference Guidelines

This list of examples is meant as a reference style overview; for further information and examples, please refer to The ACS Style Guide, 3rd ed., 2006. Chapter 14 specifically addresses references and is freely available online at <http://pubs.acs.org/doi/pdf/10.1021/bk-2006-STYG.ch014>.

Journal Article (Note that the article title must be included; include DOIs when available.)

Chan, C. J.; Salaita, K. The Molecular Boat: A Hands-On Experiment To Demonstrate the Forces Applied to Self-Assembled Monolayers at Interfaces. J. Chem. Educ. 2012, 89 (12), 1547–1550; DOI: 10.1021/ed200832h.

Book with Authors

Bard, A. J.; Faulkner, L. R. Electrochemical Methods: Fundamentals and Applications, 2nd ed.; Wiley: New York, 2001; pp 65–69.

Book with Editors

Other Considerations

Authors are responsible for the accuracy of the references. Reference accuracy is critical to allow readers to access the original literature source.

- All author names should be listed.
- References citing personal correspondence or unarchived material obtained from the Web are discouraged. “Anonymous” is not acceptable as an author; if the author is unknown, list the reference by company, agency, organization, or journal source.
- Do not list references as “in press” unless they have been formally accepted for publication—in that case determine whether a DOI has been assigned and include the DOI in the reference instead.
- Use complete sentences when adding a note in the References section.
